10+ YEARS DESIGNER

SUMMARY

For nearly a decade, I designed apparel for Nike. As an Advanced Creation Designer, I led the Nike Tech collection, focusing on the intersection of style and performance for the city environment. I collaborated closely with NXT, Nike's in-house innovation team, to develop highly engineered experimental apparel. These garments were developed over multiple seasons, with a focus on innovative construction, material and trim design, and new performance solutions. This work added to the main Tech collection.
In contrast to my corporate career, I am a practicing metalsmith, working in silver and gold with every element made by hand. Through this work, I create objects intended to inspire grounding, connection, and curiosity.
I recently left Nike to expand my creative experiences and continue learning from the world around me.
